

Karen Briggs -Background

Karen Briggs is a Yorta Yorta woman whose ancestral home land radiates from the junction of the Goulburn and Murray Rivers in North East Victoria. Karen has a Bachelor of Design from the University of South Australia and a Diploma in Applied Design (Multimedia).

As a graphic designer, Karen comes with well established solid working relationships with Aboriginal Elders; Aboriginal Community and other Aboriginal workers across Government. These working relationships strengthen, support and assist the creative work that she provides to Aboriginal people and their communities.

Karen now lives in the Adelaide hills which inspire her in drawing themes from nature which takes her back to a time when she was young with her grandmother on the Cummeragunja Mission along the Murray River of the Barmah State forest.

She is passionate about working to improve the well being of Aboriginal people.

Karen currently works as a Senior Aboriginal Graphic Designer for Housing SA – Strategy, Policy and Aboriginal Outcomes.
