A Marie Task Force

Government House Adelaide
Parliament

For your consideration :

The Human Condition

- We all need care.
- We all care.
- We especially care for those closest to us.

The Human Society

- When we can't care for those closest to us, we outsource that care.

The Human Economy

- Outsourced care is organized by our representatives ie by our Government.
- Our Government contracts fellow humans to provide care in exchange for Government money.

The Human Reality

- Paid care provided for those not close to the carer carries with it the dichotomy of care provision on the one side and profit on the other.

We pray that profit never trumps care.
 We know that profit occasionally does trump care.

Vale Ann Marie Smith.

Your Task

To frame every government (or for that matter, every private) contract for care provision in an absolute double-downed cloak of constructive checking-up mechanisms to ensure that care always trumps profit.

Dogma such as

"let's cut red tape"

"let's have self-regulation"

"let's redirect checking-up dollars to point-of-care dollars." etc

should have no place in policy settings
when it comes to care-for-profit.

Your mind-set should be that

"Polly-anna was a pessimist".

Good luck with your deliberations.
