About

SA Youth Week (SAYW) is an initiative that celebrates and recognises the value of young South Australians to their communities.

As one of the largest annual events on the South Australian youth calendar, SAYW showcases young peoples' talents, contributions, and achievements; promotes a positive image of young people; acknowledges the common interests of young people as well as their diverse backgrounds and circumstances; and enables young people to express their ideas.

Purpose

The State Government, through the Department of Human Services (DHS), is providing SAYW grants for local councils and not-for-profit organisations working directly with young people across South Australia to host events and activities during SAYW 2025. The events should promote, acknowledge, recognise and celebrate the contributions of young people in our communities.

The overall purpose of SAYW 2025 is to celebrate young people and youth culture and to encourage all young people to participate in their communities.

Aims and objectives

SAYW 2025 grants support youth-led events and activities held during SAYW in South Australia that support the objectives of SAYW by:

- providing opportunities for young people aged 12 - 25 years to be involved in the planning and delivery of events that celebrate young people and youth culture;
- providing opportunities for young people to express their ideas and views, pursue their interests, showcase their skills and talents, raise issues of concern to them and/or act on issues that affect their lives;
- providing opportunities for the wider community to listen to young people and acknowledge and celebrate the positive contributions that young people make to their local communities; and
- providing activities that are accessible for all young people.

Funding

One-off grants of up to $2,500 are available for eligible organisations hosting events during SAYW 2025 that are in metropolitan and regional South Australia, with 60% of grants being provided to rural and regional SA.

If you are playing music at your SAYW event, you will be required to source, at the event organisers' expense, the required license. For more information on licensing please contact APRA AMCOS on 1300 852 388 or email licence@apra.com.au
